One Day National Conference

on

Sugar & Health- Myth & Realities

In present situation of mental stress and hardships, this precious source of energy for human body known as “Sugar” has become more vital. However, the recent marketing highlighting artificial sweeteners have intensified the anti-sugar movement through misinformation. It is an alarming situation when people substituting sugar under the mistaken belief that adopting artificial sweeteners will be a healthier option and sugar will cause health ill effects. Some recent studies in Indian context shows that consumption of added sugar in India is lower than many healthier countries in the world. Studies indicate that sugar has no significant immediate harmful health effects when consumed in moderation and many ill effects are more due to change in life style. Sugar as carbohydrate is an essential ingredient of balance diet. The conference will discuss all such issues for bringing forth the clarity on this vital issue.
